

Clos de Hilde.

Clos de Hilde, Bègles (33), "jeu composite" monochrome, eau courante

The plant of Clos de L'Hilde is situated in Bègles. This waste water treatment plant is the best and most important sewage treatment plant of Aquitaine. It was inaugurated on the sixth of November 2008. All rainwater networks are separated from all waste water networks. All these networks arrive in this waste water treatment plant and are treated and separated in nine treatments. The treatment of waste water is in ten stages.